

WHO We Are

Sans Soucie's principal artist and designer is owner and President, Chauncey Gannett.

Chauncey began learning the trade and craft of art glass while growing up working in the family business. With plans of becoming an architect or engineer, in 1985 Chauncey changed course, taking his natural skill and creative abilities in art, design and engineering and applying them within the field of art glass.

Together with his wife LeeAnn, Chauncey and his team of highly skilled artisans and glaziers have earned a well established name and reputation for Sans Soucie. Known among thousands of homeowners, designers, builders and developers for creating the highest quality etched, carved and leaded art glass available in the industry, Sans Soucie is also known for its broad-range design versatility and outstanding level of customer service and satisfaction.
